HEI CLAIM

The number of students who have appeared in and passed university examinations over the past five years serves as a critical metric. It not only reflects the educational quality and support provided by our institution but also highlights the effectiveness of our programs. This data is instrumental in assessing the impact of co-curricular activities, such as community outreach (CO) and professional development opportunities (PO), which contribute to the continuous enrichment of knowledge and learning experiences for the benefit of the student community.
