HEI CLAIM

An institution's development and credibility in the educational field depend on awards and recognition from government-aided institutions. Acknowledging and recognising those who have dedicated their lives to bettering society inspires others to join in the process of constructing the country. Several government and government-recognized organisations have given awards to East Point College of Pharmacy's faculty and students over time for their contributions to social welfare initiatives. Staff and students have received over 30 awards from different organisations.
